Hack

Whether it's family photos, websites your kids see, protected client info, or sensitive personal info, we all have data we don't want to lose or have exposed.

The problem is that bad guys target you every day as part of a random bulk of devices, accounts, and networks to make money, for politics, or for fun.

Join us for a free, participatory Cybersecurity Clinic and get a handle on your cybersecurity and privacy.

Grab a seat and get the details on how to:

- Turn on two-factor authentication
- Use a password manager
- Adjust privacy settings on social media accounts
- Set security measures for phones
- Enable device recovery tools
- And More!

Registration is free and limited to 30 attendees
